

THE SHELTERBOX WAY

Disaster response expertise to boost your leadership skills

WHAT IS IT?

ShelterBox's training is renowned for creating effective disaster relief responders. High-performing teams are also valuable in the private sector, so we have developed bespoke training sessions to help boost our corporate partners' performance. The results have been amazing:

100% of attendees believed they developed their planning and organisational abilities.

80% of attendees believed they have developed their decision making abilities.

We are now offering for professionals from any background to partake in this one of a kind course, drawing upon years of experience in building teams that achieve superior results and communicate effectively in high-risk environments.

IS IT RIGHT FOR YOU?

The training is suitable for all professionals who are either new to leadership and team management, or are seeking to broaden their thinking. The course can be attended individually, or as a team.

BENEFITS AND IMPACT TO YOU

- Improve your leadership skills through greater self-awareness.
- Gain key tools to effectively manage team dynamics that you can implement immediately.
- Learn how to make effective decisions.
- Widen your business connections in a fun and engaging environment.

HOW WILL IT WORK?

The training will be conducted by an expert trainer with deployment experience.

Utilising practical exercises and carefully structured discussions, this unique training will help you understand the key aspects of high-performing teams, including:

- Clarity of purpose and clear goals
- Having a strategy
- Nominating leaders
- Communication and understanding
- Robust feedback of both failures and successes
- Strong culture
- Active followership

These skills will then be applied against the backdrop of disaster relief, in a test scenario, before being linked to how they transfer to your working environment.

LEARNING FROM AN AUTHORITY

ShelterBox provides emergency shelter to families hit by natural disaster and conflict around the world. We are only able to do this through the power of an amazing network of highly-trained Response Team volunteers based across the globe. These volunteers are trained to the highest standard to ensure that they can make good decisions under pressure, in very challenging environments. Our experienced trainers enable us to up-skill volunteers from all walks of life to reach this level.
